Little change noted in county race results

A recount of four precincts Thursday night yielded the rell Randolph that they did in Tuesday's primary.

According to the certified count, Randolph received no same results in the superintenvotes in Ansley and Clermont

Harbor and only two votes in Lakeshore. In Diamondhead East, Randolph's home precinct, the result was 197 for the incumbent, one vote less than Tuesday's total of 198. Two people at the Democratic Executive Committee meeting Thursday protested the results, saying they voted for Randolph in Lakeshore precinct and knew

> Randolph also said he didn't agree with the results. "I think it's just an impossibility" that there could be a difference of about 200 votes between the superintendent's race and other of several other people who also local races, he stated. He said that night he didn't cnow yet what he planned to do. State Democratic Executive Committee chairman Ed Cole... said Randolph could challenge the vote by filing an election contest within 10 days after the vote is certified.

"He needs to get affidavits recorded from those voters who are willing to sign one as part of his contest. He needs to file a request with his county committee and point out the problems with the election as he believes they happened.

"His best bet is to get his attorney to file the contest according to the state election code. Within five days after the contest is filed, a hearing must be held. If the contest fails, his next step is circuit court.

"There's no time constraint for the circuit court case; it just depends on when the judge can hear it. However, it is better to file before the election. If he waits until after the election, he'll lose public opinion."

In the Supervisor District 1 race, James T. Ward gained one vote in Lakeshore. In the Senate District 46 race, Bill Johnson gained one vote in Lakeshore, while incumbent Vic Franckiewicz lost three (which did not go to Johnson) in Clermont Harbor.

Port & Harbor awards effluent line contract

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

The Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission approved construction of the Calgon Carbon Corporation plant effluent line at Port Bienville Wednesday.

Twin L Construction Company of Pass Christian was the lowest bidder of four, at $287,869. Commission engineer Carlos Cordon explained the Economic Development Administration (EDA) grant received by the commission for the project is $406,000, as based on an estimated cost for the construction of the line. The commission, Cordon continued, estimated the cost to be around $360,000 after Calgon and GE Plastics paid their respective portions of the Calgon asked that the size of the pipe be increased, at their expense, from the recommended 8 inches in diameter to 14 inches.

GE Plastics requested a change in the routing of the line, at their cost, so as to not divide some newly acquired property they have earmarked for future expansion.

Cordon said everyone was to reap the benefits of competition because the pipe manufacturers were willing to lower their price to secure such a large order.

Cordon added Calgon will pay $30-$36,000 for the pipe size increase and GE Plastics will pay $39,229 for the additional 270 fect of line needed for the re-routing. noth expected to pay twice

The effluent line will run 10,400 linear feet at $17.28 per foot.

The commission questioned Cordon on the quality of the pipe and the installation of the line. Cordon said he personally met with I win L and was satisfied when he discovered the pipe manufacturer was to provide their own expert to fuse the line. The savings of approximately $100,000 will be applied to other amenity work, commission member Dave McDonald stated.

Waveland balances budget

BY JACQUI COCHRAN The Waveland Board of

Aldermen balanced the books Wednesday by adopting fund-by-fund amendments for the 1991 city budget. Robert Parker of Moore & Powell CPA firm explained a city estimates how much it will take in from revenues and bases expenditures on that estimated amount. Though Waveland spent 6.89 percent more than they estimated, the revenues collected by the city also were more than estimated. The result was a balanced budget for the city.

Parker added should a city not have the revenues to cover the excess spending, cuts must be made at the last minute to force a balance.

In response to a question by Ward 4 Alderman Stan Weidman, city attorney Lucien Gex said the law requires the city to end each year without a surplus of funds.

city had budgeted $9,200 for renovations at city hall and remained within budget on that particular project. The fund exceeded budget, she replied, because there were no funds allowed for renovation of the city hall annex, or for the purchase of the city's telephone system, both included in the category with city hall renovations. Some of the other expenses not included in the 1991 budget were: fuel for city sewerage vehicles; repairs to 50-60 pumps and the purchase of 15 new pumps; emergency street repairs;

The Waveland Board of Aldermen approved the city's proposed 1992 budget Sunday with one alderman voting opposition. Ward 4 Alderman Stan Weidman read a statement to the board citing denial of information, unexplained increases and decreases in line items, the lack of an encompassing drainage/ flooding plan and the role that the utility department plays in financing the city, as his reasons for voting against acceptance.

Following the meeting, Weidman said his criticism was based on comparison studies he made between last year's budget and the 1992 budget.

The board and Mayor Stella Frilot listened as Weidman read for three minutes from a prepared statement prior to the vote on Frilot said the $1,000 would be taken from the $30,000 allocated for additional city paving, as requested by the aldermen. No other adjustments were made to the proposed budget. The 1992 budget is based on estimated revenues of $5.4

Reflections

On Life

By Father Jerome LeDoux, SVD

God is unconstitutional

Those not in the know were orimed for an address of some kind, while all the graduates knew in advance that something different and special was going to happen. The valedictorian approached the rostrum with great poise, then uttered his entire speech with one loud sound and a single gesture.
"Atchooo!" he sneezed intentionally into the microphone. Well prompted and hairtrigger at the ready, the entire class chorused a mighty: "God

Pending the ruling of the U.S. Supreme Court on a case concerning the status of prayer at graduations, the current law of some individual states disallows any prayer or invocation at any official school program. Nothing caunted, our valedictorian got God in.

Which goes to show us that, just as we cannot legislate morality, neither can we prevent the injection of God into whatever situation people decide God is needed in.

Human ingenuity almost invariably finds a way to attain whatever end seems worthy of imagination, effort and perseverance. I have a sneaky suspicion that many a commencement exercise or school program will henceforth conclude with a dramatic, audiencegrabbing sneeze, Telling people to avoid calling god's name and calling on God's person is as futile as telling them to obey obnoxious laws which they do not like. No, the futility is even higher, because being held back from God is than anything else.

The commencement-ending sneeze was but a loud, breezy portent of things to come. Who knows what curious things lurk in the deep recesses of the imaginations of fervent believers, young and old alike, who will not be denied their expression?

Now let your imagination run a little. Begin with the court's wording in one state: "The Constitution forbids an invocation or benediction as part of an official school program, such as graduation ceremonies and athletic events."

Using your imagination, you might begin by observing that. the prohibition is only of a prayer, invocation or benediction. That leaves unprohibited a wide world of expression.

An enterprising speaker could constitutionally address the court's mind in making this innumerable times. It might be pointed out in detail how this is. not an exercise in reflection on God, but simply a practical, separating of what belongs to Caesar from what belongs to would not dream of impeding our earthly journey of faith and our struggles with morality. The court is merely doing its duty in assuring that the state uses human means to function.

Divine resources are to be used in church and, by choice, at home. God, it might be observed, is still the unseen Guest at every commencement or program, at least in the minds and hearts of all believers.

Any number of program addresses could go on to debate the merits and demerits of praying to God on public insisting that we need not say the same of God aloud to give praise and thanks or to seek help for our needs and hurts.

The speech might ask what the linchpin of life is: the love nest of home; school; church; academia; the halls of Congress; a transcendent Force underpinning all of these?

On the election: Remove signs; use numbers on ballots

The first primary election is over, with several races to be settled with run-offs on October 8.

We have noticed a number of signs still posted for candidates who were eliminated in last Tuesday's race. We hope that those who aspire to office will see to the prompt removal of their campaign materials as soon as the election is decided.

Candidates are also reminded not to attach signs to. telephone and power company poles, as they become hazards to the employees who must climb the poles to restore service.

Many voters have mentioned the fact that the Democratic ballots in the primary election omitted the candidates' numbers, which normally accompany their

Many of the candidates report they told supporters to vote for them using the numbers assigned to them.

I have been told by local election officials that numbers are not required. Even if they are not, it makes it easier on the qualified electors and those running for office when the corresponding numbers are on the ballots.

It is good to know that there are folks who care about the needs of others, and I really appreciate the assistance of everyone.

There are so many names I could mention, but I will not even try, because I would surely miss some.

The United Way actually helps thousands of people each year in Hancock County, and they are of all ages. Some of the help may be major, and on the other hand, it may only be in a small way.

The 23 agencies of the United Way of Hancock County are all deserving, and we are hoping that our campaign will be successful.

attendance for this important Morning Edition. The program is to be presented by the media of Hancock County, including The Sea Coast Echo, Sun-Herald, WBSL Radio and WLOX-TV.

The event will be held at the Mississippi Power Company's Conference Room, Highway 90 and Dunbar Avenue, Bay St. Louis at 7:30 a.m.

CONGRESS

By Rep. Gene Taylor

Never forget achievements of older Americans

Recently the House passed H.R. 2967, better known as the Older Americans Act Amendements. The bill, which I supported, reauthorizes the Older Americans Act of 1965.

This bill will allow Americans 55 years of age and older continued participation in benefit programs implemented by the original Older American Act. The 1965 legislation was to have expired at the end of Fiscal Year 1991.

The bill passed the House unanimously. I am pleased my colleagues took such expedient action in voting to amend the current law. The age group which is most affected by H.R. 2967 should also be as pleased that they have not been forgotten.

This generation of people molded America into the greatest nation on earth during this century. It is imperative that we never forget their achievements. Likewise, we must preserve and enhance their accomplishments. This is why programs such as the Older Americans Act Amendments is so important to the fabric of our nation.

This bill reauthorizes programs which provide meals, transportation and employment for the elderly.

In 1990, our state received approximately $8 million in federal grants for Special Programs for the Aging under the Older Americans Act. The State Council on Aging receives most of the funds for distribution to local organizations that assist the elderly in Mississippi, Without these grants, thousands of elderly in the Fifth Congressional District would have to go without many of the services they so heavily depend on every of these funds, the Mississippi Council on Aging received $4.2 million in grants for Support Services and Senior Centers, and more than $3 million for nutrition services.

Adding to the current programs, the Older Americans Act Amendments creates a new program providing supportive ctivities for cares frail elderly.

The programs will provide meals in elementary and secondary schools for older individuals that will be linked to intergenerational programs.

The bill also authorizes grants for programs to prevent foreclosure and eviction of the elderly. In addition, it will prepare students for careers in the field of aging and for multigen-erational activities involving older individuals.

I have always and will continue to support programs such as these. These assistance programs fill a void in our nation's elderly health care system. I feel as if it is a small price to pay to enhance the lives of those who have given so much to their

War against substance abuse continues in state

Many Mississippians are fighting a daily war against an evil that has the potential of destroying our state's future.

The evil I refer to is substance abuse.

A lot of people are making a real dent on combating substance abuse in our state-from officers with the Mississippi Department of Public Safety and the Lureau of Narcotics to members of DREAM and MADD, participants in the Governor's Youth BRIGADE, officials, citizens and students.

Our law enforcement officers continue to step up their efforts. For instance, The Bureau of Narcotics has confiscated nearly 41,000 marijuana plants in just the first nine months of this year, in comparison to a little less than 28,000 plants in 1990. That represents a 47 percent increase.

This is strong ammunition in the war on drugs, but we must keep fighting if we are ever to win this all-important battle. We nust fight this evil in the field, on the streets and in the schools, and that's were the Governor's Youth BRIGADE comes in.

The Governor's Youth BRI-GADE (Better Results In Grades and Awareness of Drug Effects) is a three-year-old antidrug initiative sponsored by the Mississippi Highway Patrol designed to show students what drug enforcement is all about. Since its start, about 500 young adults have attended the BRI-GADE camps.

Cost of the program is not funded at taxpayer expense; instead it is funded from confiscated drug money, the State Troopers' Association and private individuals.

The students, selected by the teachers at middle schools in the state's 82 counties, become BRIGADE participants at the invitation of the Department of Public Safety. On Sept. 21-22 and Oct. 19-20, 11- to 13-year-olds will be called to Jackson to get firsthand instruction in drug enforcement. They will see a simulated drug bust with SWAT Team members and narcotic detecting dogs.

Also attending will be guest instructors who will talk about drug identification techniques, alcohol and drug abuse, drug exploitation of children through cults, child abuse and other timely topics.

Theme of these camps is, "We're All in This Together," and it is designed to show students that drugs are not welcome in Mississippi. We also hope to stress support of the church, school, home and law enforcement in their efforts to repel substance abuse.

At the same time we hold this camp for students, we will sponsor a workshop for the parents of the students to show them what they can do in their community to fight the war against Drug and alcohol abuse need to be fought at every corner, in every school yard and in every workplace. Programs like the BRIGADE and organizations such as DREAM and MADD need our support.

They are making a difference in Mississippi's fight against substance abuse. They are making a difference in Mississippi's Bienville Park, there are certain amenities we supply, such as rail service, water and gas.

"The additional money will be used in connection with suppling thoses services which are sometimes more or less than anticipated." In other business, the board refused to give Mississippi Power Company (MPC) the right to construct electric poles along the south easement of the industrial park rail line.

MPC is planning a new electrical line by which a double feed of electricity will be supplied to their customers in the park.

MPC real estate manager Harry Speaker said the double feed will insure the continuance of service should one line go down.

The commission said rejection of MPC's usage of the easement was because the commission felt they might need that land for additional track. Speaker was told that MPC would have to go back and purchase land to use for the line from the various property owners.

McDonald added, "In no way is this meant as a rebuff to Mississippi Power Company.

"But as a commission, we must feel we are operating in the most prudent manor. Anything put in on that side of the track will kill off additional development."

Thursday accident results in injuries

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

Bay St. Louis Police Sergeant David Sellier reported a Bay St. Louis man, charged with driving under the influence (DIII), suffered lacerations and internal injuries after his car collided with a truck Thursday on Highway 90 in front of Hancock Medical Center.

Billy C. Evans, 37, was driving a 1987 Chevrolet Sprint, west bound on Highway 90, Sellier stated, when he struck the rear of a 1979 GMC utility truck driven by Waveland resident Herbert Klein, 62.

Sellier, an accident reconstruction specialist with the BSL Police Department, said, "The call on the accident was received at 8:13 p.m.

Evans had several lacerations to the face, head and legs. "Both Evans and Klein were transported to Hancock Medical Center by Mobile Medic.

"Klein was treated and released, but Evans was admitted to intensive care because of internal injuries.

Sellier added that charges were filed against Evans for DUI first offense, reckless driving and improper driver's license and car tags.

Hawks claw Bearcats 24-0

BY TRACI BONNEY

The Hancock Hawks spread their wings at home Friday, soaring to a 24-0 victory over the Long Beach Bearcats.

The first half started slowly, with neither team able to take. the ball in for a touchdown until well into the second quarter. A Hawk fumble midway through the first quarter gave the ball to the Bearcats, but they weren't able to move it and had to return it on a punt.

With 4:08 left in the half, Terrance Goff capped a nine-play Hawk drive with the team's first of four touchdowns. The PAT failed, leaving the score

Nine plays later, Jeron "Kid" Vince took the ball into the end zone for the second Hawk TD. A 2-point conversion attempt was no good. With 1:27 on the clock, the score was 12-0. The half ended with the ball back in the Hawks' possession. The third quarter was marked by unsuccessful attempts on the parts of both teams to move the ball,

In the fourth quarter, the Bearcats attempted to take the. ball into the end zone, but three penalties and a quarterback sack forced the Long Beach team to return the ball to the Hawks. Three plays later, however, Bearcat Sean Harden picked off a Hawk pass to put the ball back in the hands of the Long Beach players.

Their victory was short-lived, though. Four plays later, the Bearcats punted to the Hawks. A 10-play drive and a 31-yard run put Goff into the end zone to take the score to 18-0. The with 4:48 on the clock. 2-point conversion attempt was

On the return kick, Bearcat Ramon Johnson received the ball, headed downfield and fumbled. Dennis Malley recovered and took the ball back in on at a 30-yard run for the Hawks' fourth and final TD. A penaltyriddled, sprinkler-dampened 2-point conversion attempt failed, leaving the score at 24-0

Both teams spent the last few minutes in futile attempts to move the ball, and the horn sounded to close out the first Hawk victory of the season.

The Hawks left the Bearcats in the dust, chalking up/363 yards rushing to Long Beach's 112, 373 total offensive yards to the Bearcats' 143, and 19 first downs to Long Beach's 7. Although Long Beach had 31 yards in passing to Hancock's 10, the Hawks' running game, which included 178 yards on 15 carries for Goff, prevailed, Hawk head coach Irvin Favre said after the game, "It feels good to finally have a victory, The team played good; they made a lot of little mistakes, but they're still learning. Overall they played a good game," although they sputtered at times.

Several defensive tackles were recorded by John Rutherford IV, and Kerry Wittmann, St. Martin again when he collected a lateral on St. Martin's 29-yard line a little later. A long pass to Jeremiah Fuh-

Chapman left the game in the first half with an apparent injury and did not return, other than bruises, he was probably the only injury to the Rocks, Lyons said.

Stanislaus then had a 19-6 margin, as a faked PAT turned into a pass which just fell incomplete. This was followed by St. Martin giving the Rocks the safety.
Coach Lyons said, "I feel that we got after them, and I am happy that we have a district win." Next week the Rock-A-Chaws will be at home hosting East Central in another district Jubilant Tigers celebrate first win.

Tigers win district opener 18-13

BY RANDY PONDER

A swarming defense and a determined offense carried the Bay High Tigers to an 18-13 come from behind win over the Forrest County Aggies Friday night in Bay St. Louis. The District 8 Class 3-A game got off to a bad start for the Figers when they fumbled the ball after the opening kickoff, Taking over at their own 39, the Aggies marched down field for the first points of the game. Brian Ford did the damage with a three-yard run around the right end on a first and goal play. David Haverson tacked on the extra point, giving Forrest County a 7-0 advantage. The Tigers came roaring right back, taking the kickoff, aided by a 15-yard personal foul against the Aggies, to the Forrest-43.

Adrian Whavers took a handoff nine yards around the left side. Jason Loiacano followed with a first down run to the Aggie 28. Two more running plays netted four yards, to bring up a third and six situation.

Sophomore quarterback Sam Shepard dropped back and fired a long pass to a wide open Marcel Whavers down the right sideline for a touchdown. A twopoint try failed when the intended receiver fell down. But the Tigers had closed to within one point, 6-7, with 41 seconds left in the first quarter.

Forrest County, not to be outdone, took the ensuing kickoff and quickly lit up the scoreboard with seven more points.

Starting at their own 21, the Aggies' John Tarvin took a handoff and raced down the right sidelines for 23 yards. If not for a saving tackle by Brenan Compretta, Tarvin may well have gone all the way for a

A handoff to Brian Ford picked up eight more yards as the first quarter came to an end.

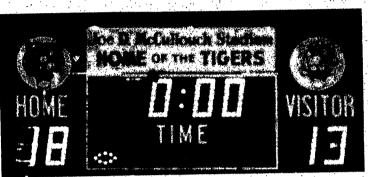

The first play of the second stanza was a disaster for the Tigers. Eall carrier Eric Lott hit the right side of the Tiger defensive line and appeared to be stopped for little or no gain. But instead of going down, Lott broke loose and won a foot race down field for a 48-yard TD. The PAT was no good, wide left. But the Aggies had made the Tigers look bad, going 89 yards in only three plays. Bay High could not get the job done on their next offensive series and was forced to punt.

The Aggies took over on their own 35 and again quickly moved down to the Tiger 39. It looked as though Forrest County could do no wrong. Then it happened! The Tiger defenders made their stand.

Jeff Hopgood and Mark Murray combined to stop the next. play for a one-yard loss. The next down also resulted in a loss, this time for four yards. Following a heat time out, Jimmy Strong and others broke pick up the first down through to sack the Forrest rabout an inch to spare. quarterback.

For the first time in the game, the Aggies were forced to After an exchange of punts, Bay High had the football on their own 47 and 2:10 to work with in the first half. An illegal procedure call and a five-yard loss on first down had the Tigers facing second. down and 20 yards to go. Bay High took a time out.

When play resumed, signal caller Sam Shepard pitched the ball back to Adrian Whavers, who passed the ball to a streaking Marcel Whavers half way down the field on the right side for a 63-yard TD. The stunned Aggies looked on in disbelief as the Tiger bench and fans celebrated.

The point after touchdown was no good, and even though Bay High scored on the big pass play, they were still behind in the game, 12-13.

Neither team could do much in the third quarter. Lyman Curry recovered a fumble to stop the Aggies first drive. Bay High fumbled the ball back four plays later. An exchange of punts and a turn over on downs ended the scoreless period.

Entering the final frame, the visitors had the ball and the home team needed to score.

Hopgood and Miquel Smith took care of the first problem. Jeff delivered a jarring hit on a Forrest County runner, separating him from the ball. Smith fell on the loose pigskin and the Tigers had possession on the Aggie 30.

Three plays resulted in a net loss of one yard and Bay High was looking at fourth and 11. Then, on what might have been the turning point of the game,

Shepard connected with Loiacano on a pass and run play to pick up the first down with

With the ball on the 20, Whavers ran for three, followed by a QB keeper for five more. The Tigers moved to just inside the ten for a first down and goal to go. A handoff resulted in a two-yard loss.

Shepard took the snap from center, tucked it under his arm and rolled around the right side and behind some good blocking made it into the corner of the endzone. TOUCHDOWN!

The Tigers had done it. They had taken the lead. A two-point conversion try was no good and with 6:49 left in the contest, Bay High was on top, 18-13.

Plenty of time left, this game was not over. The offense had put the points on the board, now it was the defenses' time to

And shine they did, stopping the Aggies cold on each of their final three possessions. Miquel fumble recovery to kill the first Forrest County drive. Gene Taylor stepped in front of what appeared to be an open receiver for an interception on the Aggies next series. And finally, Kris Roberts picked off a desperation pass as time was running out to preserve the Tiger victory.

"It feels good to win," Bay High coach Rocky Gaudin exclaimed after the game. "It's been so hard to convince these young men that they could win.

We seem to keep waiting around for something bad to happen. Maybe this will let them know that they are good enough to win."

The Tigers are 1-0 in district play and 1-2 overall. Forrest County is 0-1 in district play and 1-2 overall. Bay High will travel to East Marion next Friday. Game time is 7:30 pm.

SHOPPING UP A STORM

By Katy McGuire Caire

It's Fall, officially, today—and wasn't that bit of fall snap in the air on Friday morning delightful? I threw open all the windows, turned off the A.C. and enjoyed the fresh air for awhile, before the sun warmed things up as usual!

With the coming of fall, our thoughts turn to heartier meals than many of us have felt inclined to cook during the long, hot spell. Perhaps you'll make a not of soup, or cook up a bountiful stew, or such.

Also, if you're like most of us, you're pondering ways and means to lo all this in the face of rising costs. I count on fresh vegetables, grains and fruits to stretch or replace my meat and poultry in various dishes, taking a tip from French and Chinese cookery and just my plain old frugal bent!

With the wondrous Fall Harvest of vegetables at our area supermarkets and our Farmer's Markets these days, my task is relatively easy, even when I'm cooking for more diners than just myself and Peanuts-the-Fat-Cat!

I've just cooked up a couble batch of Eggplant Lasagne, to give you an idea, one batch for the freezer and one for today's supper, which I've asked a couple of close friends to share. Peanuts and I shall contentedly share tomorrow any leftovers. With eggplant's rich and meaty taste, you'll not miss the meat; at least, I don't, but then, I like vegetables!

The small eggplants coming into the markets are ideal for: EGGPLANT LASAGNA

2 lbs. eggplant 1/4 cup olive oil

- 1 recipe Tomato Bechamel Sauce (see below) 1/2 cup milk
- 3 sheets "instant" lasagna noodles (or other lasagna noodles, pre-cooked)
- 8 oz. part-skim mozzarella, shredded
- 1/2 cup grated parmesan

Preheat broiler; lightly rease broiler pan rack. Peel the eggplant, and cut crosswise into 1/2-inch thick slices. Arrange half of the slices in a single layer on broiler pan and brush lightly with oil. Broil 8 inches form heat 3 minutes until browned and tender: repeat with remaining eggplant

Reduce oven temperature to hot (400 degrees). Combine sauce (recipe follows) and milk in a bowl. Spread approximately 1/2 cup of sauce over the bottom of 8x8x2-inch square baking dish. Top with one lasagna sheet. Layer with 1 cup of sauce, half of the eggplant, one-third of the Mozzarella and one-third of the Parmesan.

Top with 1 cup sauce, lasagna noodle, 1/2 cup sauce, remaining eggplant, half of remaining Mozzarella and half of remaining Parmesan. Top with 1/2 cup sauce, remaining lasagna noodle, remaining sauce, Mozzarella and Parmesan. Bake in preheated hot oven (400 degrees) for 15 or 20 minutes or until the lasagna is bubbly and noodles are tender. Let stand 10 to 15 minutes before cutting and serving. (6 servings). For the sauce used in the recipe: TOMATO

Both fresh tomatoes, (including those vine-ripened) and tomato paste and sauce are good bargains just now, incidentally. Other good picks from the vegetable bins are green onions, bell (green) peppers, broccoli, and mushrooms, among others. Squash, as well. (You may easily substitute squash of some sort for the stuffed eggplant recipe in Thursday's "Cooking Up a Storm" column, by the way. As I said in that column, I some-times substitute coarsely chopped eggplant for ground beef in stuffed eggplant or as a "tomatoey" sauce for pasta. Why not add some cut-up squash as well for a variation on the theme?

ATTENTION HANCOCK RESIDENTS!

This is the most important Sheriff's election in Hancock County history.

The major issues facing our residents today are: gaming, neglected drug enforcement and lack of patrol in our rural communities.

As Sheriff of Hancock County, with accountable management we will create a special gaming and narcotics unit, staffed with educated, experienced officers of high integrity.

We will have 24 hour patrols, which will include traffic enforcement. For a Sheriff who will listen to the concerns of the

CLUBS, AUXILIARIES

Riverview Club

The September meeting of Riverview Club was at the home of Joan Little with 10 members present. A brunch was served by Joan and Clyde Richardson, hosts, before the meeting.

The meeting was called to order by Delores Bullitt, president.
The Creed was read by Ethel Breaux. The educational notes were read by Clyde Richardson.

The need for foster homes in Hancock County was brought to the attention of the group. It was also discussed that the club will start bringing food to meetings for the Food Pantry. Twenty dollars was donated to the scholarship fund for Dr. Purdy's retirement.

A collection was taken for clothing for newborn babies at the local hospital. Several volunteered for the Beach Cleanup on Sept. 21. The club will start dressing dolls for the Salvation Army Christmas gifts to the needy.

Margie Welch gave an interesting report on diabetes. Kay Buccola gave a demonstration on making a purse from blue jeans. The next meeting will be at the home of Sheryl Reynolds on Oct.

GOD'S LOVE APPEARS IN THE FLAMING COLORS OF AUTUMN

When summer's heat has taken flight, The frost descending in the night Will paint the trees with colors bright, That morning will unfold: And coming with the cooler days, In keeping with this yearly phase, The sight of branches all ablaze

Is awesome to behold. Waveland 467-9275 On countryside or in the town, Those leaves that later fade to brown Proclaim, as they come drifting down, The year is growing old. 301 Necaise Ave. Bay St. Louis 467-7347 Our House of Worship's lessons show The love of God, that we should know From autumn's beauty, all aglow With shades of red and gold.

Friendship Oak Chapter NSDAR

The first meeting of the fall season of Friendship Oak Chapter was hosted by Mrs. E. George Cassis and Mrs. Catherine Shedd at the Holiday Inn, Beachfront, Gulfport on Saturday, Sept. 14. Following lunch, the ritual, Pledge of Allegiance and the American Creed were led by the regent, Mrs. William J. Gemmel. After officers' reports the program began.

"Portrait of a Daughter" celebrates the Bicentennial of the Daughters of the American Revolution. This was a very impressive video depicting the ideals, growth and expansion of the Daughters from the beginning to the present.

Mrs. James R. Thomas, Mrs. E. George Cassis, Mrs. James B. Brumfield and Mrs. Robert Willems welcomed the new citizens at the Naturalization Ceremony at Gulfport on August 27.

September 17-23, better known as Constitution Week, marks the 203 anniversary of the Constitution. The national defense meeting is Wednesday, Oct. 9 at the Great Southern Club.

Distinguished citizen

Ninety-one years young, Mattie Sams of Bay St. Louis was recently awarded a plaque by the Hancock County Retired Seniors Volunteer Program (RSVP) for dedicated service since 1973. Sams, still active with the group on a twice-a-week basis, said, "I enjoy the crocheting and making of bed spreads." Sams was also presented a certificate of distinguished citizenship by the City of Waveland. (Echo staff photo by Jacqui Cochran)

The Gulf Coast Writers Association invites anyone interested in pursuing writing as a career or hobby to their meeting Thursday, Sept. 26, at 7 p.m. in the William Carey College auditorium, 1856 Beach Drive, Gulfport. The group meets the third Thursday of every month at 7 p.m. in the auditorium.

Writers Association

This Thursday's meeting will offer members an opportunity to read and discuss their work in progress and gain feedback from other members. Our aim is to promote writing and writers on the Coast, by providing information and support to writers of various interests, including poets, novelists, non-fiction writers and playwrights.

The GCWA sponsors an annual Writers Conference in the spring featuring a keynote speaker, workshops, exhibits and luncheon. The keynote speaker is a well-known author who provides the focus for the conference.

For more information concerning Thursday's meeting, the group, or the conference contact Fannie Favre, president, 832-4797, or Suzanne Smith, vice president, 467-3573.

Veterans of Foreign Wars Theodore S. Price Post 3253 Ladies Auxiliary

The national convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Ladies Auxiliary was held in New Orleans Aug. 16-23 at the Sheraton and Marriott Hotels. Several awards were presented to special celebrities at the convention for their help and contributions in the various programs sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Actor John Schuck received the Service America award and $2,000 for Alzheimer's Association of Los Angeles; Morgan Brittany received the American Spirit award and $10,000 for the American Cancer Society. Ladies Auxiliary members raised more than $3 million for the third consecutive year for the American Cancer Society.

The VIW and Auxiliaries also gave away thousands of American flags over the last year, due to the surge of patriotism experienced during Operation Desert Storm.

The following awards were received by the Department of Mississippi: Audrey S. Heyd, membership chairman, for attaining 100 percent membership for 1991; and a citation to Audrey S. Heyd, chairman, for most effective promotion, based on quality of material.

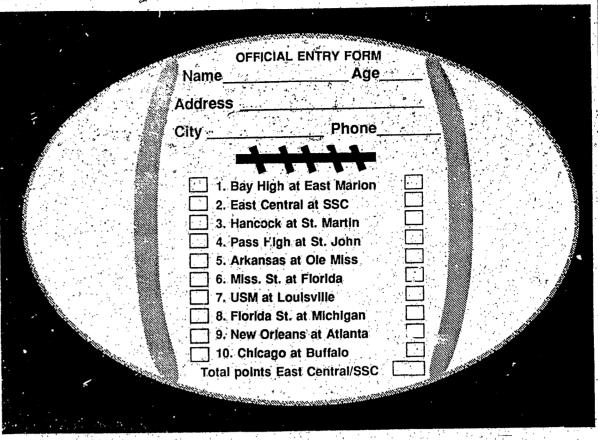

Members from Theodore Post 3253 attending the convention were the commander, Donald Mauffray; president, Audrey S. Heyd: treasurer, Evelyn Sick; District 1 treasurer, Jean Lewis; past District 1 commander, Chuck Heyd; past grand MOC, H. B. Lewis; Arthur Leineweber and Charlotte Mauffray.
